Reports of a Massacre at Krushevo Denlet in Constantinople-Russian Fleet Not Vet Reported-Anxlety in Vienna Regarding the Czar's Intentions

pecial Cable Despatches to THE SUN. LONDON, Aug. 18.-The insurrection in cedonia has now spread to the Vilayet Adrianople, and the area of the first othreaks between Salonica and Uskub has become a scene of wholesale bloodshed. Until definite details of the guerrilla fighting, now numbering scores of actions. reach the outer world and can be tested. it is hopeless to say which of the fat contradictions from Sofia and Salonica is true. The Macedonian despatches from Sofia declare that the Turks massacred the entire (hristian population of Krushevo without exception, including the empleyees of the tobacco regie, which is nder European control. Constantinople despatches deny this, and say that the fighting at Krushevo continued on Monday The Greek Metropolitan has started from Monastir for Krushevo to induce the insurgents refugees in the church there lay down their arms, after which the Porte promises them liberty to return to

A despatch from Sofia says that severe fighting is reported from the neighborhood Monastir. Three Turkish battalions attacked 1,000 insurgents and after six hours of fierce fighting were repulsed leaving 210 dead and wounded on the field e loss of the insurgents is not known. A report from Uskub states that Michaelsky, a Bulgarian leader, is said to have een killed at Krushevo. Boris Sarafoff, he chief of the revolutionists, is reported be surrounded at Prass, in the southern part of the vilayet of Monastir.

Forty-three battalions of Turkish-Euroean reserves have been called out.

All the foreign consuls at Monastir go rmed when visiting Hilmi Pasha, Inspectorieneral of Macedonia and Vali of Monastir ad interim. Each consul carries a bandolier filled with cartridges, a revolver and a sword. They have two attendants each, who carry loaded guns.

The soldiers salute the Consuls, but do so seowlingly. No Consul ventures far from his consulate. Nobody is allowed on the wreets after 6 o'clock in the evening. The thristian residents of the town are still barred in their dwellings. The American issionaries are distributing bread to hose who lack food.

The Vienna correspondent of the Standard ays it is not believed there that the dussian squadron under Vice-Admiral Krueger, which left Sebastopol Monday, intends to force the Bosphorus, although the Vienna papers describe the fortifications there and point out that the antique coast batteries, meant to protect the entrance, would easily be silenced v a few well-directed shots from the Russian ironclads. Belt Feature. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN London, Aug. 18 .- The Admiralty has decided to build three new battleships of 18,000 tons, which have been designed by Philip Watts, the director of naval construction. These are the first vessels designed by Mr. Watts since his appointment, two years ago.

The most notable departure in the new ships will be in the armor plating for the sides and hull. An armor belt of 10-inch Krupp steel, tapering away to 6 inches, will be continued the whole length of the broadside. This is the first time this will be attempted in the battleships of any

Included in the armament of the new ressels are four submerged torpedo tubes, four 50-ton wire guns, 8 quick-firing 27-ton guns and twelve 6-inch guns. The vessels must attain a speed of 19 knots an hour.

Hospital, but, after being there for a short time, he decided that he wasn't hurt much and walked out.

The shooting was over $2, which Lenehan lost on Monday night. He accused Shoemaker of taking it, which the latter denied. The two men walked past Bicycle Policeman Kupfrian, who was off duty and in a bathing suit, and Kupfrian heard Lenehan say to Shoemaker:

"You took that $2 from me and you know it. I want it back."

I want it back be foolish," replied Shoemaker.

"I didn't take it."

The two men walked toward a lunch counter and, after some words. Lenehan Are you going to settle?" "I don't want any trouble," replied Shoe forward Turret Hit, but the Result Is Kept Secret-No Great Damage Apparent After the Test--French Minister of Marine on the Battleship.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN Paris, Aug. 18.—The experiments to scertain the effects of actual bombardment on modern warships began here today when the battleship Massena fired a shot at the forward turret of the Suffern, which is said to be the finest cruiser in the French navy. After firing three trial shots at improvised targets which had been erected aboard the Suffern the Massena sent a fourth shot directly at the turret, which it struck. The turret apparently stood the test well.

The Massena took a position at 7 o'clock this morning 160 yards from the Suffren. Torpedo boats kept the neighboring sea clear of vessels. The drums on both warships beat to quarters at 9 o'clock, and a few minutes later the flag of M. Pelletan, Minister of Marine, was hoisted on the Massena, showing that he was aboard. The first projectile that was fired passed over the Suffren and struck the rocks on the other side of the bay, raising a huge cloud of stones and dust. The second shot was directed against a special target fixed just above where the turret of the Suffren was to be hit. The shell passed through the target and buried itself in a cliff beyond.

The range having thus been obtained the big gun was trained against the turret tself. A flash from the gun was seen, a dull report of the discharge was heard, and almost immediately a heavy thud caused by the projectile hitting the turret. The shell rebounded and burst into fragments about a hundred yards from the Suffren. All that the watchers ashore could see was a large black blotch spread over the central turret.

The actual damage done will not be rerealed, every precaution having been taken to keep it secret. The Suffren will go to sea on Thursday to ascertain if it is possible o use the turret

It is said that M. Pelletan did not be lieve that the mountings and bearings of the Suffren's turrets were strong and heavy enough to stand the impact of a 12-inch

He expected that the shock would disarrange the electric mechanism by which the turret is worked and prevent it being moved for firing the guns from it. Whether this is so or not the Suffren's next gun Despatches from Paris a few days ago said that during these tests sheep were to be imprisoned in the turret to test the intensity of the shock.

Now Hoboken's Mayor Is After Those Who Cut $1,000,000 From It.

Mayor Lankering of Hoboken said yesterday that the action of the Commissioners of Appeals of that city in cutting $1,000,000 from the assessment on the new North German Lloyd piers would be contested and that steps would be taken in an effort to prove that the Commissioners who voted for the reduction were unduly influenced.

The tax rate in Hoboken is $2.33 on $1,000, and the original assessment on the piers was fixed by the Tax Assessors at $2,602,200. The steamship people in their application for a reduction of this assessment asserted that the cost of the new piers, which they admitted to be more than $2,000,000, should not determine their assessable value, extravagant wages having been paid to rush work at night, and the price of steel, stone, cement and other materials having been unusually high during the period of construction.

The Commissioners of Appeals were dined by the North German Lloyd people on board the steamship Bremen on Monday afternoon. They met the same evening, and the assessment of $2,002,200 was reduced to $1,002,200. There are five Commissioners in the board. The vote stood 3 to 2 in favor of the reduction.

"The City Council will undoubtedly reject the report of the Commissioners," said Mayor Lankering, in discussing the reduction. "and a thorough investigation will be gegun at once. There is something palpably irregular about the action of the Commissioners, and it is bound to come to the surface."

Pastor Gurschke made several inef-fectual attempts to have Wickle remove a cow stable in the rear of his residence, which adjoins the parsonage. Failing to convince the health authorities that the stable was a nuisance, Pastor Gurschke erected a high fence on the parsonage grounds to shut the stable from his view. Wickle erected a similar fence in an alley-way between the two residences.

At the hearing before Recorder Hensel yesterday, Pastor Gurschke said that some one, presumably a friend of Wickle's, had inserted an advertisement in a Manhattan newspaper saying that a house-keeper was wanted at the parsonage.

"Since then I have been turning away servant girls night and day," said Mr. Jurschke. "Another mischief-maker had similar advertisement inserted saying hat I wanted a carpenter. Applicants are still calling on me."

The Brotherhood of Carpenters, which has signed the plan of arbitration, reported yesterday that many of the independent contractors are discharging its members and employing members of the Amalgamated Carpenters' Society. It was decided yesterday to notify those employers to stop discharging Brotherhood men, failing which strikes will be ordered against all their contracts. All disputes with members of the Employers' Association will be setted by arbitration. trated its readiness to begin actual work the request to complete them would be considered. Meanwhile, steps will be taken to remove the vessels to Government

A Navy Department official said to-day A Navy Department official said to asy that a board is now at work estimating the cost of the work already done on these vessels. It is difficult to ascertain just what proportion of the contract has been completed. The company will get all that is coming to it, he said. The Department has given assurances to all creditors holding liens against the ships that their claims will be safe. IN HONOR OF A DEAD STRIKER.

says in part:

The only knowledge the members of the New York Metal Trades Association have as to the proposed strike is obtained from the reports published in the newspapers. No official notice of any such action has been communicated to the association. It is impossible to say what all the trades will do, but we believe that there will be no sympathetic strike by the labor organizations with which the association has contracts with the stipulation "that there shall be no sympathetic strikes called on account of labor disputes."
